- 1. Protect the environment: Greenpeace says that the next president should protect the environment by reducing greenhouse gas emissions and protecting the water supply.
- 2. Invest in water infrastructure: Greenpeace says that the next president should invest in water infrastructure, such as dams, levees, and water treatment plants.
- 3. Protect the water supply: Greenpeace says that the next president should protect the water supply by protecting the watersheds that provide the water.
- 4. Reduce water consumption: Greenpeace says that the next president should reduce water consumption by encouraging people to conserve water.

The gospel according to Jim Caviezel

By Dave Karger

THE FIRST TIME I MET JIM CAVIEZEL, he was in a room in the Hollywood Hills, wearing a black leather jacket and a black leather choker. He was looking at me with a serious expression, and I was looking at him with a serious expression. We were both looking at each other, and we were both looking at the camera. We were both looking at the camera. We were both looking at the camera.

Ryan's friends whip up a birthday blast to remember

By Thomas H. Rorer

WHEN IT COMES TO BIRTHDAYS, Ryan Murphy is a man who knows how to throw a party. On his 30th birthday, he was joined by a group of friends who threw a party that was as memorable as the man himself. The party was held at a local restaurant and was a blast for everyone involved. Ryan's friends were on hand to make sure the party was a success, and the result was a night to remember.
